In Baltimore County Public Schools, we continue to build on our tradition of excellence and focus our attention on the future.

The school system continues to achieve what all school systems strive for – consistent progress in raising student achievement.

Finding ways to be successful is the basic tenet of our Blueprint for Progress, the foundational document we developed in 2000. The Blueprint for Progress unites staff and stakeholders with common beliefs, priorities, and goals. Primary among these is the principle that all means all; we are dedicated to the success of every student, every classroom, and every school. Following that principle, Baltimore County Public Schools creates a culture of high expectations and rigorous instruction. We use proven strategies and technology to engage our students today.
